About me

I graduated in 2019 and worked in both front-end and back-end development. Found my passion in front-end and since then i've worked in building websites, mainly using wordpress as a base (cms and headless cms) and webapps development mainly using vue js. I consider myself a technology enthusiast and I'm always exploring new things. During my college years I've been a part of a few academic associations which really helped me to learn how to work as a team and be more organized.
